DIONYSIUS HIPPI

DEFENDANT

MOTION FOR SUMMARY JUDGMENT

Comes Dionysius Hipp, pro se, and for his Motion for Summary

Judgment states:

1. I found Motions for Summary Judgment on the Internet.

Apparently the Arkansas Supreme Court no longer calls Summary Judgment a drastic remedy. It is simply one of the tools in a trial court's efficiency arsenal. Flentje v. First National Bank of Wynne, 340 Ark. 563, 11 S.W.3d 531 (2000).

2. The thing is, the Gods want me to do this. It would violate my First Amendment rights of Freedom of Expression and Freedom of Religion for you to say I can't have a religious display in my front yard.

3. Quite frankly, the Gods are sick of war. They went to all the trouble to create every one of us. They made us all individual. They made us different, with all our unique characteristics. Every time one of us gets killed, it's like we took one of their works of art and threw it in the trash, and they're tired of it.

4. I have to do what I can. This is all I can think of to do. These rich bums don't want to think about it. Too bad! That's what's wrong with the world.

5. I know they're saying this case is like the one where that rich guy put up all the Christmas lights in front of his house. No it isn't. He didn't have to do that for his religion. I have to do this for the Gods. It's the least I can do.

6. So Judge, gimme a break. Grant this motion for Summary Judgment and let me keep my giant loud obnoxious conspicuous outrageous art display in my front yard in peace.

LOVE,

Dionysius Hipp
